HOLIDAY COOKING COURSES OFFERED AT L'ECOLE DE LA MAISON

ELKHART LAKE, WISCONSIN (2009) – The French cooking school at The Osthoff Resort is offering recreational chefs special culinary courses to spread cheer during the holiday season. During the months of November and December, L'ecole de la Maison is offering one-day holiday courses to resort guests or anyone in the public who is interested in learning how to develop their cooking skills and techniques.

Classic Thanksgiving is offered on Saturday, November 7th, and will teach participants how to prepare a mouth-watering fowl, as well as, classic gravy and all the traditional fixings. December leads off with the French Christmas Dinner on December 4th, where students learn how to prepare a five-course dinner characteristic of the traditional le Réveillon (a French tradition). Bûche de Noël (also known as a Yule log) on December 11th, provides instruction on creating a delicious and classic Roulade for an unforgettable elegant holiday centerpiece and dessert. The Christmas Cookie Exchange on December 12th, features students making premium Christmas Cookies and taking home a tin of assorted treats with recipes that are destined to become family favorites.
